

THE 4TH ANNUAL STAUNTON JEWISH FILM FESTIVAL

PRESENTS

COMMUNITY

DIVERSITY

SCREENING AT FRANCIS AUDITORIUM
MARY BALDWIN COLLEGE

SPONSORED BY TEMPLE HOUSE OF ISRAEL
& THE SPENCER CENTER AT MARY BALDWIN COLLEGE

FEB. 5, 2011

Seven Minutes in Heaven* 2 pm

A year after a bus bombing in Jerusalem, a survivor tries to stitch together the fragments of her life and soul. The film presents an exploration of memory and meaning. A Q&A session with Rabbi Joe Blair of Temple House of Israel will follow.

Jaffa* 5 pm

Family dynamics are explored when an Israeli woman falls in love with a Palestinian man who works in her family's business with her bigoted brother and father. Assistant Professor of Psychology Matthew Hunsinger will speak afterward.

For My Father* 8 pm

After his explosive vest fails to detonate, a Palestinian spends the weekend with the people he was planning to kill (while his vest is repaired) and forms attachments to his new companions. Then he needs to make a choice about life and meaning. Bruce Dorries, associate professor of communication, will lead the after-film discussion.

FEB. 6, 2011

Arranged* 1 pm

A story of the struggles faced by two religiously observant young women, one Jewish and one Muslim. They find they have much in common, including preparing for arranged marriages. The film highlights religious differences handled with respect and understanding. After the screening, Heather Ward, director of International Programs at the Spencer Center, will moderate a panel of multicultural women.

Inside Hana's Suitcase* 3 pm

A true-life mystery to uncover the details of Hana's life after her suitcase — confiscated years earlier as she entered the concentration camp — is sent to the Tokyo Holocaust Museum. A film of astonishing power and hope. Professor of Philosophy Roderic Owen will speak after the screening.

ADMISSION

Full-festival pass (all 5 films):	$35
Single-film ticket:	$8
Single-film (non-MBC) student ticket:	$5
MBC student with ID:	free

*Snow dates Feb. 12-13, 2011

